RESEARCH SUMMARY

The following inventory represents eighteen months of research into the present state of California-curricula. The online course catalogs for all public and private universities were systematically searched for all courses with a California component. A similar Internet search was repeated for community colleges. Because not all community colleges have complete course catalogs online, supplemental information was also gathered from college handbooks. While this list is not complete, it is a major step in documenting and gathering information about current course offerings on California.
