

San Francisco State University
Assistant Professor of Public Administration
Urban / Local Government Administration

San Francisco State University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level, to begin August 2007. The individual would be part of a growing NASPAA-accredited Public Administration Program.

Minimum qualifications include an earned Ph.D. or D.P.A., a demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching, research, and community / university service and the ability to teach other public administration courses. For this position, prior teaching experience and public sector / nonprofit work experience are pluses.

The successful candidate would be expected to teach courses in urban administration at the graduate level. The faculty member would also be expected to help build the urban / local government administration curriculum by offering electives (such as intergovernmental relations, community and economic development and others). In addition, the successful candidate will be responsible for teaching additional general public administration core and elective courses.

The Public Administration Program at San Francisco State University is a NASPAA-accredited program in a multicultural urban university of 25,000 students. For more information, check these web sites: San Francisco State University (<http://www.sfsu.edu>), the SFSU Public Administration Program (<http://bss.sfsu.edu/~mpa/>), and the San Francisco Bay Area (<http://www.sfgate.com>).

To apply, submit a cover letter explaining your interest and qualifications, a curriculum vitae, three reference letters complete with contact information for references, a writing sample, and teaching evaluations / sample syllabi (if you have teaching experience) to Chair, Urban Administration Search Committee, Public Administration Program, San Francisco State University, 1600 Holloway Avenue, San Francisco CA 94132. In your letter, please discuss other courses that you could teach and your planned research agenda.

Review of applications will begin October 1st.

San Francisco State University is an Affirmative Action Equal Opportunity Employer. Members of historically underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.
